13.3 million visits to museums

In 2011, admission rates of Danish museums reached 13.3 million visitors. Of the 281 museums included in the statistics, 147 are subsidized by the state. Museums subsidizes or owned by the state had 10.4 million visitors in 2011, equal to 78 per cent of the total number of visitors in 2011. In 2011, the zoological and botanical gardens had a total of 4.4 million visitors.

ARoS accounts for a considerably higher number of visitors

With an admission rate of 975,000 The National Museum is clearly the most visited museum in Denmark in 2011. The art museum Louisiana account for the second highest admission rates of 629,000 visitors. However Aarhus art museum ARoS is rapidly catching up with Louisiana. With an increase in the number of visitors by 136 per cent from 2010 to 2011, ARoS is the absolute high jumper among the ten largest museums. With a total of 523,000 visitors, ARoS is now ranked as number three. The great increase is partly due to an Asger Jorn exhibition and partly the opening of Your Rainbow Panorama.

Libraries

Danes continue to lend a great number of books

In 2011 the public libraries lent a total number 30 million books. This is equal to the circumstance that each Dane lends 6 books per year from one of Denmark's public libraries. In three out of four cases, it is either books (68 per cent) or periodicals (5 per cent) that are lent. The other media are distributed as follows: music (10 per cent), films (10 per cent), audiobooks (3 per cent), multimedia, etc. (3 per cent) and other material (1 per cent).

Another fall in the circulation of daily newspapers from 2011-2012

In comparison with 2011, the circulation of newspapers on weekdays had fallen by 154,000. One of the reasons for this fall was the shutdown of the newspaper Urban. In 2012, Urban accounted for 6.6 pct. of the total circulation on weekdays, corresponding to 93,000. Just over 60 pct. of the fall between 2011 and 2012 can be explained by the shutdown of Urban.

Increase in the number of tickets sold for films

From 2011 to 2012 the number of tickets sold for films screened at Danish cinemas saw an increase of 9 per cent and reached 13.6 million tickets sold. The number of tickets sold for American films showed a modest fall of 42,000 tickets, corresponding to 0.6 per cent compared to 2011. Danish films increased by 16 per cent. In 2012, the three films seen by most people were Skyfall, Hvidsten Gruppen and Den skaldede frisør. Danish films accounted for 29 per cent of all tickets sold in 2012. This is an increase of 2 percentage points compared to the previous year. The most popular Danish film was Hvidsten Gruppen, selling 754,000 tickets in 2012.

Minor fall in daily television viewing

January is the month of the year, where the Danes over 3 years watch the most television. On average, the Danes watch TV for 3 hours and 46 minutes a day. July was the month with less time spent in front of the television by 2 hours and 51 minutes of TV viewing. Compared with 2011, the Danes watched less TV in all months of 2012 except April and June. Music, entertainment and dramas are watched almost half of the time that Danes spent on watching TV (57 per cent).

Theatres

The audience of state subsidized theatres trickle away

Admissions to state subsidized theatres reached a number of 2 mill. during the season of 2011/2012 which is 100,000 fever than the previous season and a decrease by 4.8 per cent. This is a continuation of a decrease starting after the season 2008/2009. In state subsidized theatres there were 2.2 per cent more productions in 2011/2012 than in 2010/2011 but 2.5 per cent fever performances. There were 174 admissions for each performance in 2011/2012 compared to 179 admissions for each performance in 2010/2011; a decrease by 2.8 per cent.

Cultural habits and sports

Football is the national sport of Denmark

Football is the most popular sport in Denmark measured in terms of members, and from 2010 to 2011 the Danish Football Association (DBU) saw an increase in membership by 4 per cent. Danes have also in great numbers taken up golf, and golf clubs have experienced a steadily increasing membership during the last 10 years. However, golf clubs saw a minor fall in membership in 2011.

Culture, economy and structure

Sports, radio and TV receive the greatest public funding

Although the level of public funds for cultural activities has changed slightly from previous years, the largest shares of these were in 2012 also allocated to sports (19 per cent), radio and TV (19 per cent) and libraries (17 per cent). Performing arts (theatre) received about 7 per cent, while music and museums each received 6 per cent of the public funds for culture. Other cultural activities represent 25 per cent of total funds. This figure includes the 6 per cent allocated to the general education of adults as well as folk high schools; these two areas are from 2012 and onwards an integral part of the statistics on public funding for cultural purposes.

Public subsidies to cultural activities. 2012 Figure 8

www.statbank.dk/bevil02

General adult education and folk high schools are now included

The public funding for cultural purposes were just over DKK 22 billion in 2012, 2 billion more than in 2011. This increase is partly accounted for by a data break worth DKK 1.6 bn. arising from departmental reorganisations after the general election in 2011. This led to the inclusion of general adult education, folk high schools and cultural buildings in the accounts of public spending for cultural purposes. These changes aside, the level of public spending for cultural purposes is almost unchanged from 2011 to 2012. In 2012 the subsidies were distributed by 56 per cent from central government and 44 per cent from local government. Most central government subsidies are granted via the Danish Finance Act (DKK 7.0 billion in 2012), while receipts from licences contributed with DKK 4.2 bn. and receipts from Lotto funds contributed with DKK 1.2 billion.

National Church

Fewer members of the Evangelical Lutheran Church in Denmark

An increasing number of people have decided not to be members of the Evangelical Lutheran Church in Denmark. The share of the Danish population with membership was 79.1 per cent on 1 January 2013. The share shows a falling tendency and made up 79.8 per cent in 2012. The share was 83.8 per cent ten years ago.

Largest membership of the Evangelical Lutheran Church in Denmark is seen in Western Jutland

The share of members of the Evangelical Lutheran Church in Denmark differs among the various regions of Denmark. The region accounting for the highest number is Western Jutland, followed by Northern Jutland and Southern Jutland. The region with the lowest number of members is the town of Copenhagen, followed by Copenhagen outskirts and Northern Zealand.
